

GLENN THE ORATOR FOR RALEIGH DAY

North Carolina Executive Accepts Invitation to Speak on That Occasion.

THE BOND CASE GOES OVER

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION, November 4.—That Governor J. B. Glenn, of North Carolina, will speak here on Raleigh Day has been definitely settled. The Governor has announced his intention of attending on the day in question, and there is no doubt but that there will be thousands of North Carolinians present. Raleigh Day will be held within the next two weeks, but no date has yet been settled upon.

Within a week it is expected that sixteen of the largest vessels in the North Atlantic fleet will assemble in Hampton Roads, and will form a sight of unusual interest to visitors during the closing days of the Jamestown Exposition. Many of these are now at the Norfolk Navy Yard, and most of them will be battlements of the first class. Among the ships to be present are the Alabama, Georgia, Missouri, Kansas, Rhode Island, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, New Jersey, Brooklyn, Virginia, Ohio and a number of other men-of-war.

Bond Case Goes Over.

Federal Judge Waldill was to have heard in United States Court in Norfolk to-day a rule made returnable in a suit brought by John Monk against the Jamestown Exposition Company, in which the Exposition Company was cited to show cause why it should not be restrained from making disposition except under order of court, of the unexpired bonds of $400,000 ex-emption first mortgage issue, but Judge Waldill telegraphed that he had been detained in Richmond, and would not be able to reach the city until late this evening.

The impression is that the whole matter, upon agreement of all parties concerned, will go over until some future day for argument. The action of to-day only affected some $200,000 worth of bonds, and the court was to have considered no question of receivership at this time.

STRANGER'S FATAL FALL

Unknown Young Man Loses Life by Fall From Train.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SALISBURY, N. C., November 4.—Mystery surrounds the death of a strange young man found dead near the main line of the Southern Railway track ten miles south of Salisbury Saturday. A fracture was found in the back of his head, and he had been dead some time. A coroner's jury decided that he came to his death by falling from a passenger train, though this lacks substantiation.

Railway passes to Jamestown in the name of J. R. Davis and $12 in money were found in his pockets, and there was no evidence of foul play. It is claimed by some that the dead man was Robert D. Capell, of Weldon, and an examination is probable. In order to identify the body, as it was buried by the county without identification.

MANY HORSES BURNED

Eighteen Lost in Livery Stable Fire at Salisbury.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SALISBURY, N. C., November 4.—At Albemarle early Sunday morning fire destroyed a livery stable of J. L. Eird, together with all its contents, including eighteen head of horses, which were burned alive. A large number of vehicles were also burned. The flames spread rapidly to the new building of the Stanley Enterprise, which was likewise burned with nearly all the belongings of the newspaper office. Many persons living in Albemarle lost horses in the fire, the origin of which is unknown. The total loss is estimated at $12,000.

This Amounts to Ten Per Cent. Cut for Southern's Employees.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SPENCER, N. C., November 4.—Pursuant to an order from the Washington offices of the Southern Railway Company, applicable over the entire system, the employees of the company at Spencer, Knoxville and other places were to-day placed under a nine-hour day schedule.

The cut amounts to 10 per cent. and was made by the company rather than reduce the force. It is not known how long the schedule will remain in effect.

EX-MAYOR POWELL DEAD IN RALEIGH

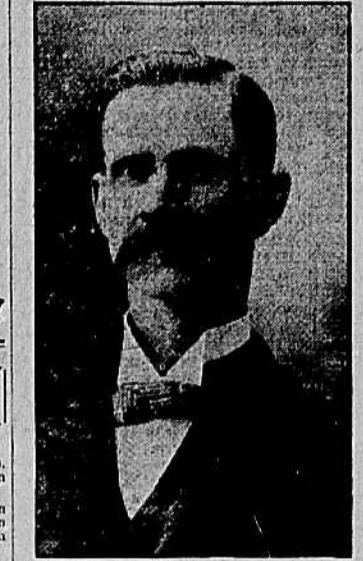

Community Shocked Sunday Morning to Hear of the Prominent Citizen's Death.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., November 4.—The people of Raleigh were shocked beyond measure Sunday to learn of the death of Hon. Alexander M. Powell, three times Mayor of Raleigh, and a man prominent in the business and fraternal life of the city and the State. He was a steward in Edenton Street Methodist Church, grand treasurer of the North Carolina Grand Lodge Royal Arcanum, grand treasurer of the Fraternal Mystic Circle, financial secretary of the Seaton Gales Lodge of Odd-Fellows, and a business man of high standing in the city.

His death, which occurred at an early hour Sunday morning, was from heart disease. He had been quite ill for ten days, but the news of his condition Saturday was that he was improving.

Mr. Powell was in the sixty-first year of his age; was a native of Tennessee, son of Dr. Powell, of Nashville. His mother was Miss Cox, a sister of General William R. Cox, of Edgecombe county. He married Miss Jennie S. Jones, and is survived by her and six children—Thomas Cox Powell, Raleigh; Mrs. R. H. Merritt, McAdenville, S. C.; Mrs. George Marsh, Miss Jennie Powell, Mrs. O. H. Crabtree and J. A. Powell, of Raleigh.

Funeral of Mrs. Grimes. The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Grimes, relict of William Grimes, was conducted from the Church of the Sacred Heart Sunday morning. There was a very large attendance, and the service was conducted by Rev. Father Griffin and Price. Mrs. Grimes was seventy-four years old, and was one of the best-known, most esteemed and most wealthy women in Raleigh. She was Elizabeth Honahan, of Pitt county, and married William Grimes, who died in 1885. She is survived by five children—Mrs. Fabius J. Haywood, of Raleigh; Mrs. Frank Dancy, Atlanta; Mrs. Frank T. Ward, William B. Grimes and Walter Grimes, Raleigh.

Verdict for the Company. In the case of W. O. Jones of High Point, vs. the Provident Life Assurance Company, of New York, the trial of which was in progress nearly all of last week, the jury has returned a verdict in favor of the insurance company, holding that there was no fraud and that the increased premiums beyond the age of sixty-five were legitimate. When appeals from the Eleventh Judicial District are called in the Supreme Court to-morrow for argument, the second case heard will be State vs. William Jones, which involves the constitutionality of the Recorder's Court, which the last Legislature established for Winston-Salem. Jones was convicted before Recorder Griffith of larceny, the value of the stolen articles being less than $10. His sentence was eight months' work on the roads. His counsel, H. O. Sapp, appeals on the ground that the passage of an act by the Legislature conveying such power was unconstitutional without an amendment to the Constitution, and that upholding the Constitution the only process for the trial of his client would have been a bill by the grand jury and trial in the Superior Court of the county.

SUITS TOO HEAVY TO SEND.

Virginia's Toggery Fails to Arrive, and Team Misses Practice.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., November 4.—Virginia's football eleven missed practice to-day because the players had no suits. The football toggery worn in Saturday's game with Sewanee had so materially increased in weight, due to the rain and mud, that the baggage man in Norfolk refused to check the larger trunks yesterday, and it had to be sent by express. Up to to-night the suits had not arrived.

Assistant Coach Cook had the members of the second eleven out, however, and late in the afternoon Noonan, the big freshman guard, who got in the Sewanee game a short while Saturday, reported for work. He surprised the substitutes by landing a clever field goal.

It is understood that the varsity players came out of Saturday's contest with little or no injuries, which is surprising, considering the slippery condition of Lafayette Field. Regular practice will be resumed to-morrow, in order to get the team in shape for Saturday's game with Washington and Lee, the eleven which played North Carolina to a standstill.
